Assignment no: 02

Q1: Write a program of a basic mark sheet using JavaScript involves let, const variables to store marks for different subjects and then calculating the total marks, percentage, and grade based on those marks. Using template literals and variable using let and const and final output is shown in document.write().

Q2: Create a mobile brand and model filtering app with filter mobile brand and then second dropdown have same brand model in second dropdown and a single search button when click the selected brand and model have shown in html body